The Snowy Owl is a lovely, modern log home with a very organic feeling. Students of the Oriental art of Feng Shui will recognize some of the elements present in this design. The extra corners and short sight lines give all parts of the house a warm intimacy. The large deck is protected on two sides by the dining area and master bedroom, each with a set of French doors. A basement below this house would add enough space for a family room, exercise room, two bedrooms and another bath.
